

HEARING IS SUSPENDED

Supreme Court Issues Order in Case of Hill at St. Asaph.

CITY AGAINST THE POSTAL

This Case, With Several Others, Are Transferred to Richmond.

An interesting case, which has just been transferred in the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia from Staunton to this city, is that of John M. Hill, petitioner, vs. J. F. Haney, a justice of the peace of Jefferson magisterial district of Alexandria county, praying the court to issue a writ of prohibition against the justice to prevent his hearing the petitioner on a warrant sworn out before Justice Haney by the Commonwealth's attorney of Alexandria county, charging Hill with book-making at St. Asaph. Burke and Carlin are attorneys for the petitioner. The court has issued an order suspending hearing on the warrant until the petition shall have been heard and acted on.

This case is one growing out of a conflict of authority between the county and the city of Alexandria under a statute passed at the session of 1902-3 of the General Assembly. The petitioner claims that this act gives exclusive original jurisdiction in this and similar cases within the limits of Alexandria to the city of Alexandria. It is claimed that the justice of the peace of Alexandria county has no jurisdiction at St. Asaph, which is within one mile of the Alexandria city limits, and that in assuming such jurisdiction he is violating the statute and subjecting the petitioner to inconvenience and annoyance.

The effect of the suspension of further action against Hill under the warrant will grant him immunity from interference in his business as a book-maker possibly until March, unless the police justice of Alexandria city issues a warrant against him.

Other Cases Transferred.

These cases have been transferred by the Supreme Court of Appeals from Staunton to this city:

City of Richmond vs. Postal Telegraph Company, on petition for a writ of mandamus.

Thomas E. McVitty vs. W. B. C. Merrill, on petition for a writ of mandamus.

Norfolk and Western Railway Company vs. Robert S. Pitts, from the Circuit Court of Warren county.

C. P. Nuckols vs. Samuel P. Waddell, on petition for a writ of mandamus to make the clerk of Henrico county to make and deliver to petitioner a deed to certain property.

John J. Rowland et al. vs. George W. Rowland et al., from Clarke county.

Laura Lee Myers vs. Uno Max Lee, from the Circuit Court of Rockingham county.

Central Protective Association vs. Morton Mayne, auditor, on petition for a writ of mandamus.

John Jones vs. Commonwealth, on writ of error and supersedeas to the judgment of the Circuit Court of Clarke county, which was convicted of burning a barn and was given eleven years in the penitentiary.

The October term of the Hastings Court opened yesterday, and the greater portion of the day was devoted to the work of the grand jury, which brought in a number of true bills, though none of them were of importance.

Cook, house breaking; Robert Ross, grand larceny; John Smith, murder; Samuel Strickling, attempted assault; John Ward and John Conway, malicious wounding; Alfred W. Harris, deserting wife.

Note.—The following article has been widely published, and is one of the most remarkable illustrations of the value of careful marshaling and analysis of facts in presenting a subject to the public.

LEVELERS

The Mission of Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee.

The Creator made all things, we believe. If so, He must have made these.

We know what He made food and water, for air and sunshine, but why Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee?

They are here sure enough, and each performing its work.

There must be some great plan behind it all; the thoughtful man seeks to understand something of that plan and thereby to judge these articles for their true worth.

Let us not say "bad" or "good" without taking testimony.

There are times and conditions when it certainly seems to the casual observer that these stimulant narcotics are real blessings.

Right there is the ambush that conceals a "killing" enemy.

One can slip into the habit of either whiskey, tobacco or coffee easily enough, but to "untangle" is often a fearful struggle.

It seems plain that there are circumstances when the narcotic effect of these poisons is for the moment beneficial, but the careful student against them is that seldom ever does one find a steady user of either whiskey, coffee or tobacco free from disease of some kind.

Certainly powerful elements in their effect on the human race.

It is a matter of daily history, testified to by literally millions of people, that Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee are smiling, promising, beguiling friends on the start, but always false as hell in the end. Once they get firm hold enough to show their strength, they insist upon governing and drive the victim steadily towards ill health in some form; if permitted to continue to rule, they will not let up until physical and mental ruin sets in.

A man under that spell (and "under the spell" is correct) of any one of these drugs, frequently assures himself and his friends: "Why, I can leave off any time I want to. I did quit for a week just to show I could." It is a sure mark of the slave when one gets to that stage. He swears to break the spell, but fighting every day to break the spell, was finally whipped, and began his slavery all over again.

The slave (Coffee slave as well as Tobacco and Whiskey) daily reviews his condition, sees perfectly plain the steady encroachments of disease, how the nerves get weaker day by day, and demand the drug that seems to smile and offer relief for a few minutes, and then leave the diseased condition plainer (clearer) than ever.

The Coffee slave realizes that he is between two fires. He feels bad if he leaves off and a little worse if he drinks and allows the effect to wear off.

So it goes on from day to day. Every night the struggling victim promises himself that he will break the habit and next day, when he feels a little bad (as he is quite sure to), breaks, not the habit, but his own resolution. It is nearly always a tough fight, with disaster ahead sure if the habit wins.

There have been hundreds of thousands of people driven to their graves through disease brought on by coffee drinking alone, and it is quite certain that more human misery is caused by coffee and tobacco than by whiskey, for the two first are more widely used, and more hidden and insidious in the effect on the nerves and vital organs, and are thus unsuspected until much of the dangerous work is done.

Now, reader, what is your opinion as to the real use the Creator has for these things? Take a look at the question from this point of view.

There is a law of Nature and of Nature's God that things slowly evolve from lower planes to higher, a sturdy, steady and dignified advance toward more perfect things in both the physical and spiritual world.

The steady, evolutionary development is fixed by the Infinite, and will not be quickened out of natural law by any of man's methods.

Therefore we see many illustrations showing how nature checks too rapid advance.

Illinois raises phenomenal crops of corn for two or three years. If she continued to do so every year her farmers would advance in wealth far beyond those of other sections or countries. So Nature interposes a bar every two or four years and brings on a "bad year."

Where we see the leveling influence at work.

A man is prosperous in his business for a number of years and grows rich. Then Nature sets the "leveling influence" at work on him. Some of his investments lose, he becomes luxurious and lazy.

Perhaps it is whiskey, tobacco, coffee, women, gambling, or some other form. The intent and purpose is to level him. Keep him from evolving too far ahead of the masses.

A nation becomes prosperous and great like ancient Rome. If no leveling influence set in she would dominate the world perhaps for all time. But Dame Nature sets her army of "levelers" at work. Luxury, over-eating and drinking, intemperance, waste and extravagance, indolence, of all kinds, then comes the wreck. Sure, Sure, Sure.

The law of the unit is the law of the mass. Man goes through the same process. Weakness (in childhood), gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idleness, waste, dissipation, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman, and they bag the majority.

Only now and then can a man stand up against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end.

So the Creator has us for Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee to level down the successful ones and those who show signs of being successful, and keep them back in the race, so that the average "level" may not be left too far behind.

And yet we must admit that some All-wise Creator has placed it in the power of man to stand upright, clothed in the armor of a clean-cut, steady mind, and stay unto himself: "I decline to change my life-style for the uses or pleasures."

It will not weaken my senses, weaken my grip on affairs and keep myself cheap, common and behind in fortune and fame by drugging with whiskey, tobacco or coffee; life is too short. It is hard enough to win the good things, without any sort of handicap; "level" me certainly. "Food" trader when he trades strength, health, money and the good things that come with power for the half-salad condition of the "drugged," with the certainty of sickness and disease ahead."

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and decide for his will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "thru" of wood and carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of His children are foolish and certain if He intends to select others (perhaps those He intends for some special work) and allows them to be threshed and castigated most fearfully by these "levelers."

If a man tries flitting with these levelers a while, and gets a few snags, he will be and he will take the hint or a good, solid blow will follow.

When a man tries to live upright, clean, thrifty, sober, and undrugged, manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, happiness, health and peace seem to come to him. Does it pay?

This article was written to set people thinking, to rouse the "God within," for every highly organized man and woman has times when they feel a something calling from within for them to break to the front and "be about the Father's business," don't mistake it; the spark of the Infinite is there, and it pays in every way—health, happiness, peace, and even worldly prosperity—to break off the habits and strip clean for the work cut out for us.

It has been the business of the writer to provide a practical and easy way for people to break away from the coffee habit and be assured of a return to health and all of the good things that bring, provided the abuse has not gone too far, and even then the cases where the body had been rebuilt on a basis of strength and health run into the thousands.

It is an easy and comfortable way to Postum Food Coffee served rich and hot with good cream, for the color and flavor is there, but none of the caffeine or other nerve destroying elements of ordinary coffee.

On the contrary, the most powerful rebuilding elements furnished by Nature are in Postum, and they quickly set about repairing the damage. Seldom is it more than two days after the change is made before the old stomach or bowel troubles or complaints of kidneys, heart, head or nerves show unmistakable evidence of getting better, and ten days' time changes things wonderfully.

Literally millions of brain-working Americans today are using Postum, having found the value and common sense in the change.

SENDS HIS FIRST NOTE

Mayor McCarthy Recommends Prompt Issuance of Four Per Cent. Bonds.

FORMER DELAY WAS COSTLY

Dilatory Tactics Recently Employed Called for Outlay of $6,000.

Mayor McCarthy sent his first message to the Council last night, and fittingly enough the paper relates to bonds and the sinking fund, matters which have often been associated with the Mayor's name. The message follows:

October 1, 1904.
To the Honorable, the Council of the City of Richmond:
Gentlemen,—I respectfully recommend that you take immediate action concerning the refunding of bonds of the city maturing January 1, 1905.

Dilatory action concerning the maturities of January, 1904, necessitated a temporary loan, which cost six thousand, eight hundred and sixty-three eighty-one hundred dollars.

To prevent unnecessary delay, I hand you with this draft of an ordinance which makes all necessary provisions, which is in line with the act of December 18, 1903, and can at once be referred to the appropriate committee.

The act referred to forbids the passage of this, or any other similar ordinance, by either branch of the Council, on the same day on which it is introduced, and hence there is additional necessity for prompt attention.

Very respectfully,
Your most obedient servant,
(Signed) CARLTON MCCARTHY.

The ordinance instructs the auditor to issue registered or coupon convertible bonds of the city to an amount not exceeding $55,000, bearing 4 per cent. interest, and having thirty-four years to run, from January 1, 1905. The ordinance also provides a sinking fund, to be used exclusively in paying off this indebtedness. The message and ordinance were referred to the Finance Committee.

IN ITS NEW HOME.

American National Bank Has Now a Splendid Building.

The handsome banking house in this city, and probably the most elegant and admirably equipped in the South, was yesterday occupied for the first time for business. It is the new quarters of the American National Bank, which occupies the street floor of its handsome nine-story building at Tenth and Main Streets.

The entire first floor, extending nearly half the block from the City Bank Street, is occupied as the banking house.

The bank officials transferred their business and all the books and effects from its old quarters, a few doors eastward of the new, on Saturday night, practically completing the moving by midnight. The employees and officers of the bank reported advancing steadily, yet the waiting on terra firma has only been reared up to the third story.

Building Upside Down.

For the first time in this city the spectacle of bricklayers building the ninth story of a structure before the third story walls have been reared is presented in the construction of the Mutual Assurance Society's building at Ninth and Main Streets.

The work of laying brick from the front wall by having well-stocked Postum Food Coffee served rich and hot with good cream, for the color and flavor is there, but none of the caffeine or other nerve destroying elements of ordinary coffee.

On the contrary, the most powerful rebuilding elements furnished by Nature are in Postum, and they quickly set about repairing the damage.
